

10 BELIEFS MEN HAVE ABOUT WOMEN...

Can you tell the truth from the myths? Men pride themselves on being extremely logical and complain that women are highly emotional. But in spite of their claim to intelligence, men don't realize they generally have no idea how women think, what they want or need to be happy. Men have many unique perceptions and misconceptions about women and their needs and desires.

Patrick Wanis is a Celebrity Life Coach, Human Behavior & Relationship Expert and Author. WGN Chicago and Syndicated TV show, "The Daily Buzz" anointed him "The Woman Expert" and FOX News pronounced him "A Voice for Women." In his new two-CD audio book, "Get the man you WANT!", Wanis has identified the ten major perceptions men have about women. And five of them are myths, five of them truths.

"Wanis has identified the ten major perceptions men have about women."

Can you distinguish the truths from the myths? Take the test and then compare your responses with the expert's answers below.

THE MYTHS & TRUTHS REVEALED

1. All a woman needs to be happy is financial security

False: She needs emotional security first above all else. She can make her own money!

2. Once we are married all I need to do is provide for her financially

False: You must provide her with love, encouragement, emotional and moral support, emotional growth

3. Women dress provocatively so that men will hit on them

False: Women dress to feel confident and to be noticed and admired by both sexes. They tend to compete first with other women and then care about what men think.

4. Today's woman wants to be independent

True: She wants to maintain her own identity and individuality without feeling obligated to the man. There is a dilemma for women because some still want to be provided for financially.

5. Men have to work hard to win the woman

True: Of course, you do and it never ends! Women need constant reassurance on all levels. They need love, encouragement and support. Women want to realize their full potential, to grow and evolve. They want open communication.

6. Women spend a lot of time in the bathroom

True: They spend more time getting ready to go out than they do being out. The way they look determines much of how they will feel. Women also enjoy rituals and pampering themselves.

7. The woman wants to change men

True: Yes, she thinks she is the army and navy recruiter and wants you to become all that you can be! This happens because women generally fall in love with the potential of a man and thus want to help him fulfill his potential – even if he doesn't.

8. Women lose interest in physical intimacy after they get married

True: Yes, if the man stops courting, romancing and reassuring her. When she has children she also places them first above her own pleasure and often is too tired for physical pleasure.

9. Women are impossible to read

False: Women experience a vast range of emotions – sometimes all of them in five minutes. Let her have her storm. Listen, be patient, sympathetic and understanding and she will tell you what she is feeling and what she wants.

10. Women simply want to be appreciated for their looks

False: It's a paradox that tortures men: women want to know that they are pretty and physically beautiful but don't want to be seen as only beautiful. They want men to appreciate their inner and outer beauty!
